THE OPINION.

Supreme Court this morning rendered unanimous decision in the matter of the Territory vs. Wong Tim, who was found guilty of gross cheat. Exceptions are sustained and a new trial is ordered. W. S. Fleming, assistant Attorney General, for the Territory, and Thayer & Hemmway, for the defendant. Justice Hartwell writes the opinion of the court, the syllabus of which is as follows:

The defendant, January 19, had been arraigned and had pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with gross cheat. February 3 his attorney moved for leave to withdraw the plea in order to file a plea in abatement, stipulating that if the plea in abatement should be overruled he would be "ready immediately to go to trial upon the merits of this case." Upon the overruling of the plea in abatement the case went to trial, defendant's attorney making no objection, and the case was tried on the theory that the defendant had pleaded not guilty. Held: That under the stipulation and in conformity with the plain understanding of the court and the parties the plea of not guilty was re-instated.

The defendant asked for four instructions, of which the trial judge remarked to the jury: "The defendant has asked me to give you certain instructions which I shall give, but not as the law of this country." Held: That the instructions which were given with this ungracious and inappropriate remark were inapplicable to the facts of the case and therefore ought not to have been given at all; but the jury might have inferred from the remark that the law was directly the other way and that a verdict of guilty would be proper based upon a broken promise to pay, and therefore that a new trial should be ordered.

HOCH DER KAISER

Today is the anniversary of the birth of Germany's Emperor.

A huge German flag floated this morning from the staff of the great Hackfeld building and at noon, and from the hour of noon until after 2 o'clock this afternoon, a reception was held in the elegant offices of the German Consulate in this handsome edifice.

German Consul H. Alexander Isenberg received.

Champagne and light refreshments were served during the period occupied by the reception and cigars were passed around to the guests. The offices of the Consul were adorned by flowers, several huge vases of magnificent roses adding to the attractiveness of the place.

Berger's band played throughout and the air was full of music, congratulations and the happy exchange of compliments.

Among those who presented themselves to present their compliments to the Consul and to voice sentiments appropriate to the occasion were the following: Governor Carter, United States District Attorney R. NIBLACK INSPECTS NAWILIWILI LIGHT AND FINDS ALL IS WELL

[Special to The Bulletin.]

Nawiliwili, Kauai, Jan. 26.—The U. S. S. Iroquois arrived at Nawiliwili lighthouse at 9 o'clock this morning with Captain Niblack and Lieut. Slattery aboard. Capt. Niblack intended to land at the lighthouse in a small boat but decided not to do so as the surf was running too high at this point for safety. The Iroquois was anchored near Nawiliwili light and the Captain and Lieutenant were rowed to Nawiliwili landing where they took a carriage for the lighthouse. On the road over they were detained for some time by an open culvert which was being put in by workmen. The horses were taken out of the carriage and led across while the rig was pulled over by hand.

As soon as it was known at Lihue that the Iroquois was here a number of the citizens drove down to Nawiliwili and the lighthouse as the Iroquois does not come here every day.

Capt. Niblack says that it is very hard to keep the local lighthouses up to their proper standard as there is as yet no Federal appropriation for them and they simply exist on what money is left over from other districts.

He stated that John McLaughlin, the lighthouse keeper here, is a very capable man and should get at least $60.00 per month; but that under the existing circumstances he only gets twenty dollars, and surely that is no fortune.

Lieutenant Slattery, the Federal inspecting engineer, and the captain states that the local lighthouse has a good lens lantern, but that the reflector is a poor one. The Iroquois will only remain here until about noon when she will immediately return to Honolulu where she should arrive about midnight tonight.

Capt. Niblack was pleased at finding the weather pleasant here and stated that they are trying to get through with all of their inspection work before they run into stormy weather.

The captain brings news of the famous Genoa murder trial which just ended in Honolulu and is very much gratified to think Genoa escaped as easily as he did as he believes he was a victim of circumstances. Genoa is now aboard the Iroquois here as it was thought a sea-trip would do him good.

Wm. Rice is fishing for sharks near the lighthouse.

Dr. Huddy came to Nawiliwili last week in the Mikahala and will return to Honolulu in the Hall next Saturday.

DAMIEN'S PICTURE HIDDEN AWAY STIRS INDIGNATION

Monsignor E. M. Fowler, secretary to Bishop Harty of the Philippines, who passed through here in the Korea, said just before the vessel left for the mainland today:

"I called at the Bishop Museum, and being an American Catholic, I was most desirous to see the picture of Father Damien. I made inquiries of several of the attendants and also of the porter, but no one knew or pretended to know of such a picture."

"I finally learned from a boy at the Museum that the picture had been taken down and placed in a closet. I then asked to see the curator of the Museum, Mr. Brigham. After much trouble I managed to see him and was told that the picture had been removed on account of there having been so much trouble about it. When I ventured the suggestion that it might have been bigotry that caused the removal of the picture, he told me that the Catholic Bishop had requested its removal. I told him that I did not believe it, but that I thought it was a piece of bigotry."

The Police Court is full this afternoon with vagrancy defendants. High Sheriff Henry started out some days ago to weed out some of the vags. Four women of various nationalities, four Porto Rican men and three white men were taken in. Their cases were taken up at 2:30 this afternoon and will likely continue all day. Some of the defendants have become familiar street loafers of late.

Mrs. Murphy visited the Royal School today.

The organization was to be "The Civic Federation of Honolulu." It was the sense of the meeting that "The Civic Federation of Hawaii" would better cover the ideas and objects of the institution.

Sensor Dickey was of the opinion that one of the needs was the urging of the selection of good, honest and capable men in the primaries of all political parties here. A motion was made to proceed at once with the organization of the Federation and this (Continued on Page 5.)

Civic Federation Is Organized To Purify Politics

Hawaii has acquired a Civic Federation. An organization having in view the purifying of politics and urging the proper carrying out of laws was yesterday afternoon formed in this city, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, in the Stangenwald building, some twenty interested citizens being present. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and they are given below in full as containing much that will interest the general public.

Rev. J. W. Wadman presided and Rev. W. D. Westervelt acted as secretary. Rev. Mr. Wadman opened the proceedings with a few appropriate remarks, outlining the objects of the Federation. He said, in part, quoting a neat little pamphlet which is being circulated: "Civic Federation is a union or organization of business and professional interests promoting and protecting the welfare of the commonwealth."

Rev. Mr. Westervelt followed with further words of explanation.

D. L. Withington said he had had some little experience with such work as was planned by the Federation, in San Diego, California; he had found that such a Federation was able to accomplish a great deal of good in the work of purifying public offices and seeing that police work was properly executed. He pointed out that the efficiency of a Federation of this kind did not depend on the number of members; it had very often proved the case that most of the work was performed and most of the good accomplished by a few active workers; that men of leisure were not the ones who proved most active, but that the business of business men could generally be depended on for the best service to the cause.

Attorney General Andrews was to have addressed the gathering on the need of such an organization in this Territory but he was unable to be present on account of pressure of business in his department.

Principal Percy L. Horne of the Kamehameha Schools presented a constitution which, with a few changes, was adopted after the Federation had been organized. As the original draft of the constitution had it, the name
